

Did you know that people first arrived in California over 20,000 years ago? Native Americans lived in California for thousands of years. In 1848 California became part of U.S. land. In 1849 many people came to California to find gold. I loved learning about the history of California.

These are some interesting facts about California's flag and state map. The red color on the flag signifies courage. The star on the flag represents sovereignty. The grizzly bear on the flag is the state animal. The white background of the flag stands for purity. Looking at the state map there are four states that border it: Arizona, Oregon, Mexico and Nevada. I found the flag of California really interesting.

Did you know California is the largest state! The population of California is 39.51 million people. The size of California is 163,696 square miles. The states that border California are Arizona, Oregon, Mexico and Nevada. These were some important facts about California.

California has important cities, landmarks and waterways. These are some important cities in California San Francisco, Los Angeles, and San Diego. A few important landmarks are Yosemite National Park, the Golden Gate Bridge and Disneyland. Lastly, some important waterways in California are the Sacramento River, Lake Oroville and the San Joaquin River. If you ever go to California you should visit one of these important places!

California's climate and economy is different from the state I live in. California has warm and dry summers with mild wet winters. The average temperature in California is 70 degrees Fahrenheit. California's economy is based on manufacturing and agriculture. California has the largest economy in the United States.

There are many famous people who are from California. Some people who are from California are Gavin Newsom, the governor of California, David Belasco, a playwright and producer, and Dave , a musician. Some sports teams in California are the Los Angeles Lakers, basketball team San Diego Padres, a baseball team and the Sacramento Kings, a basketball team. Maybe you will be able to see one of these sports teams play one day!

I hope you liked learning about California. If you haven't been there you should really go there. You can visit Disneyland or the San Diego Zoo. I hope you get to visit one day soon!